

Description

East African Journal of Social and Applied Sciences (EAJ-SAS) formerly the Research Report Series (RRS) is a multidisciplinary Journal of the Moshi Co-operative University (MoCU). EAJ-SAS has been in existence for more than 15 years, mostly published through print media. Throughout this period, MoCU has continued to support EAJ-SAS by providing funds, personnel and other non-human resources. Currently, EAJ-SAS is published both online and through print media.

Focus and scope of journal

EAJ-SAS is a forum for the wider dissemination of current knowledge on multidisciplinary issues related to socio-economic development of the East African Countries. EAJ-SAS is published both online and through print media. Multidisciplinary in nature and with a strong practical orientation, this refereed journal publishes studies relating to and report significant developments drawn from economic and social development, business, management practices, cross-cutting issues such as environment; and gender; as well as policy and policy issues covering both the public and the private sector, land reforms, and non-profit organisations. EAJ-SAS also publishes articles which provide practical insights on doing business and investments at local and international level. To this end, EAJ-SAS invites contributions from authors from all over the world to submit research-based articles, policy debates, review articles and book reviews.

Copyright

Articles submitted to the Journal should be original contributions and should not be under consideration for any other publication at the same time. Authors submitting articles for publication warrant that the work is not an infringement of any existing copyright and will indemnify the publisher against any breach of such warrant. For ease of dissemination and to ensure proper policing of use, papers and contributions become the legal copyright of the publisher unless otherwise agreed.
